Buying Goods and Services –Catching the Updraft, Running A Competitive Procurement Process

Cam Lear

In this session, we will speak to how you can run a competitive procurement process to achieve best overall value when purchasing goods and services. Typically, this would be via a formal Request for Proposals (RFP) or Request for Quotes (RFQ) on the Government Electronic Tenders Service (GETS) or by email away from GETS. A process such as this is most useful when seeking a higher-value or higher-risk engagement and there is no All of Government (AoG) contract available, such as for uniform clothing supply.